

Become a Pro!

IFC-LPI Trainer Performance Monitoring & Assessment (TPMA) Certification

IFC, a member of the World Bank Group, and the Learning and Performance Institute, a global authority on learning and development, have partnered to offer an internationally recognized certificate of training competence that builds a global network of trusted, high-quality service providers in emerging markets around the world.

Who Will Benefit From This Certification?

If you are a professional trainer aiming to improve your facilitation skills and achieve professional recognition, or a novice trainer looking to upgrade to a professional level, then acquiring this internationally recognized certification is for you.

Why Become IFC-LPI TPMA Certified?

Obtaining the IFC-LPI TPMA certification demonstrates that your professional knowledge and training facilitation skills and competencies are relevant, up to date, and meet industry standards. In addition, the certification will:

- Enable you to continue to build your skills and knowledge and stay at the forefront of an ever-changing marketplace
- Give you access to the IFC and LPI network of resources and communities and empower your business
- Build invaluable personal and professional confidence
- Provide you with a competitive advantage in the training marketplace and open-up new career opportunities

"I have been a trainer for over a decade but during the TPMA certification assessment I found that I still had a lot to learn. Now my training sessions are more engaging and exciting because of the high level of interaction by the participants."

Ms. Edughom Hanson

Deputy Managing Director

Wider Perspectives Limited, Nigeria

"I would recommend this certification to all trainers. Confidence in the IFC and LPI brands opens more doors, and also, I now find that I'm better able to manage a class with mixed abilities – leaving all participants feeling satisfied and fulfilled."

Ms. Kelechi Amoo

Academy Administrator,

CleanAce Academy, Nigeria

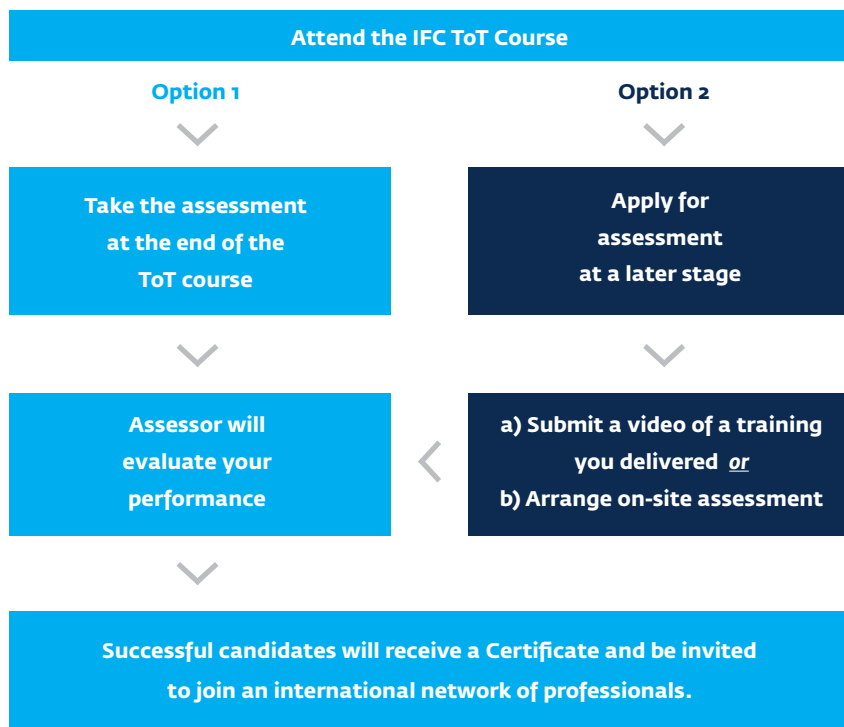

How Is The IFC-LPI TPMA Certification Different?

The IFC-LPI TPMA certification is a vital addition to your trainer toolbox, giving you more flexibility and confidence to tailor your services to your trainees' unique needs in emerging markets. It is delivered in Africa, the Middle East and South Asia, through a network of local and regional high-skilled training professionals who are trained and certified by both IFC and the LPI.

How Will I Get Certified?

There are several ways in which you can be assessed for the IFC-LPI TPMA certification based on your needs and preferences.

The diagram below outlines the key steps in the certification process.

To learn more and apply for the IFC-LPI TPMA certification, contact an IFC-LPI certified assessor. A full list of certified assessors is available here.

About IFC

IFC, a member of the World Bank Group, is the largest global development institution focused on the private sector in developing countries. It is committed to financing private sector businesses in emerging markets, mobilizing capital in international financial markets, helping clients improve social and environmental sustainability, and providing advisory services both to businesses and governments.

About LPI

Founded in 1995 in the UK, the Learning and Performance Institute (LPI) is an independent, not-for-profit global authority on learning and development. It offers several certifications, including the Trainer Performance Monitoring and Assessment (TPMA) certification.

